

Breathe in.

Breathe out.

Hmm, Everything seems good.

I have been getting a lot more rest like you told me to!

I can see that! You're in perfect health as always.

Sorry for wasting your time today, haha.

Nonsense, regular checkups are crucial, don't even think about skipping our next appointment!

Of course not, Cherie would never let me hear the end of it.

Oh, yeah! How's he doing lately?

Good!

He's not working himself to death again, is he?

You gotta get him to use his vacation days, Crush!

He will!

I'll take him on a trip soon!

Ooh, fun. What are you gonna do?

I think..

I'm gonna ask him to marry me there..

WHAT?! That's amazing!

Congratulations, Crush!

Thanks!!

I don't want to jinx it!

Shhh

Haha, I get it~ I was super nervous when I proposed to my wife, too.

Anyways, just sit here and I'll be right back with your paperworks.

'Kay! Thank you, doc!

See you next time!

Invite me to the wedding~

Shhhhhhh!

Sorry, sorry. Haha.

CLICK

Ah, Boss. I was just about to call you!

Yeah, he just left, actually.

He's doing great!

Nope, no medications. I tested his blood and everything.

He's completely off them.

Probably about.. 4 months now?

I know you sent me to Dan City to look after Crush, but it doesn't look like he needs me, haha.

He's been very happy with his life here!

In fact, he's gonna propose to his boyfriend next month!

Isn't that amazing?

I'm back!

Crush, finally, you're here!

Can you check the smoke detector? It's bugging out again.

Okay~ I'll do that after taking Cherie out for his lunch break!
