

Chapter 124 - We can sweat a lot.

I put on some clean clothes and threw myself on the bed. The bed in that inn could have been more comfortable. If it had been that inn I stayed at with Lili, I probably wouldn't have pain in my back now.

"It amazes me that we have so many lodging options within a dungeon." I gave a smile and turned to look at the door. Lili had entered. She walked over to my bed and sat.

A pleasant smell was coming from her tail, swaying beside me. Without a second thought, I held her tail.

"Hey!!!" Lili shouted.

"What?" I giggled, and Lili turned to me. Her eyes were full of tears, and her face was red. "Does it hurt? I'm sorry." I let go of her tail.

I was perturbed that maybe I was hurting her. But that wasn't the case. She was just embarrassed. I started laughing as soon as I heard this.

Next, I asked Lili to lie down next to me.

It was still afternoon, so it wasn't cold, and the sun was intense outside. But, even though it wasn't hot, feeling the warmth of Lili's body was very nice.

"How was it? Inside the dungeon? You stayed out for a long time."

"I went to the 24th floor. There were some interesting monsters there."

"I know what type of monsters are on those floors. Were you able to kill them?"

"Yes, it wasn't a big problem. Especially now that I'm fighting using two swords."

"Two swords?! I want to see this! Show me!" We were lying there looking into each other's eyes. Her eyes were shining with excitement.

"How about next week? I don't want to go to the dungeon again so soon. I've already gained too much money."

"How much did you hunt inside that dungeon?"

"I don't know... I handed everything to the guild, and they gave me bags full of money. All the money is in my storage."

"Ah, that magic."

"That's right. And since we have so much money, how about we go out and celebrate?"

"Celebrate? But I didn't do anything."

"That doesn't matter. Let's go out together somewhere and have fun. We can all go out together, we've never done that before. You didn't go with us when we went to the banquet."

"With all of our Familia together?" Lili gave a cute smile. "I would love to do that."

"Then it's settled!"

"..."

I hugged Lili and started to tickle her, causing her to laugh. Her laughter was a pleasant sound to my ears.

I left home with Lili the following day to go to some stores. Lili told me she didn't have many clothes, so I decided to buy her some new clothes.

I don't mind spending much money, although Lili seemed slightly bothered by it. I could spend all my money if it's for her.

'I'm kidding.' If those idiots who think I'm a "beta" listened to this, I'm sure they would be mad(lol). Some guys called me a "beta" a few times, like when I volunteered to help a girl at school.

Or when I was very embarrassed in high school when a girl tried to approach me. And especially when I was sad for almost a week because I broke up with my girlfriend.

I was sad because we broke up before we even did anything. The only thing we did was go on dates and study together. We only kissed a few times... But who cares? I had already lost my virginity, and now I had beautiful women to have sex with.

I hope that slut lost one of her legs. You already know why I broke up with her... right?

"You seem a little irritated."

"I was thinking a bit about the past... Before I came to this town."

"Did you go through many hard things in the town you lived in?"

"I had a girlfriend... She did something that made me pretty angry. So I broke up with her."

"From the look on her face, I think she did something pretty nasty."

"You can imagine what she did, and I hope you never do the same."

"I would never do such a thing. I am someone loyal to the person I love."

"Don't say it so directly, or I'll be embarrassed."

"You don't get embarrassed about it. Stop lying."

"Hahaha. After I buy some clothes, let's go to an expensive restaurant for lunch. We'll eat the best food in town."

"You're quite excited, aren't you?"

"I'm always excited in a date with a woman."

"What you're excited about is what will happen after the date."

"What do you mean? I don't know what you're talking about."

"Uhm..."

After shopping for clothes, I discreetly put everything in my inventory, and then we went to a restaurant. It was an expensive restaurant that was right near the portal.

There were few people, but the people inside the restaurant were quite refined. Probably wealthy people like nobles or merchants, I'm not sure. Lili looked a little uncomfortable.

But I calmed her down, and we sat at a table. We ordered a large amount of food, and I ordered some drinks to try.

The food was delicious, but the drinks did not surprise me. The taste was similar to the drinks I could have in any bar.

And after I finished eating, I took Lili's hand, and we walked through town together until we reached an inn. It was still afternoon and hot, but I didn't mind that, and we went to a room together.

We could sweat a lot in here.
