

Chapter 51 - Personality.

When Saber was summoned, she looked confused. She looked around to analyze where she was, and then her eyes focused on me. I felt nervous for a moment.

"Are you my master?" She asked. Her voice had a firm tone, and her eyes were sharp.

"Yes?" I answered. When I answered, nothing happened because I'm not in Fate's world. I would get a command seal in that situation.

Saber's eyebrows went up, but she didn't say anything.

"You're Saber, right? My name is Erick. It's nice to meet you." I smiled a little awkwardly. I couldn't get used to this; I was never very sociable.

Introducing myself to people I had never met before was always a little uncomfortable. The easiest person for me to introduce myself to was Rias.

"It's a pleasure to meet you, master."

"Could you stop calling me master? Just call me Erick."

"I will, Erick." Saber nodded her head. Her flowing blond hair was gorgeous. About her body, her armor got in the way. Her armor hid her whole body, which had beautiful curves.

But I shouldn't bother with that.

"All right, I'll explain everything before we go down. First of all, I didn't call you here to participate in the holy grail war, don't expect something like that to happen." The system will not create something like that.

"!" Saber's eyebrows rose again.

"I can't explain it very well even because I don't understand how this is possible, however, you are in a different world than the world you are used to... Which is the world where the holy grail war takes place."

"I understand." Despite answering that she understood, Saber was visibly confused.

"I summoned you here to fight, but not against other servants, but against unknown monsters."

"Unknown monsters?"

"Exactly. Monsters have begun to appear in this world. Strange portals open from time to time and monsters come out. I need you to help me protect people, understand?"

"..." Saber looked a little bothered. It was understandable since she is a servant with a great desire to acquire the Holy Grail. However, I can solve this by summoning the holy grail into this world.

I can summon items, and the holy grail is on the list. It probably won't come with its power, but I can try.

"So, can you help me?"

"You summoned me and you are my master. I will do as you wish." Saber closed her eyes and bowed her head. I smiled sincerely and put two hands on my waist, inflating my chest.

"Okay, we're going down now. You're going to have two companions from now on, so try to get along with them."

"Yes!" Saber replied in a firm tone.

"You don't have to use that tone..."

"Hm?"

"It's nothing; come on." I opened the door to Saber, and she stepped out. Her steps were heavy because of her armor. I will make her wear casual clothes indoors; she doesn't always need to wear this armor.

When we reached downstairs, Rias and Bulma were outside. I smelled something delicious; it was the smell of barbecue. My stomach rumbled as soon as I smelled it.

Not only me, but Saber was also almost drooling. She was a girl who ate a lot.

"Are you hungry?"

"Cof... cof... Don't worry about me." Saber coughed and pretended she wasn't drooling. I gave a smile and walked outside. I grabbed a steak and cut it into pieces.

I put the meat on a plate and handed it to Saber. "Here, you can eat as much as you want."

After handing the plate to her, Saber thanked me and began devouring the meat.

"Rias, Bulma!" I shouted. They were on the beach, sitting on the sand. How irresponsible to leave the meat on the grill while so far away. That's why the meat was overcooked.

But Saber didn't mind that; she devoured all the meat and wanted more. Her eyes sparkled.

"Hm? Who's that?" As soon as the two approached each other, Rias was the first to ask me about Saber. She was relaxed since she knew it was someone I had summoned, but Bulma was on alert.

"Her name is Artoria, but you can call her Saber. I summoned her just, so treat her well." Saber had a good personality, so they would probably get along well.

I asked Rias and Bulma to take her to the beach and have fun together while I finished preparing lunch. I made rice, a salad with tomatoes, lettuce, vinegar, and a little salt, and I also made grape juice.

A long time had passed, but the three were still on the beach. They seemed to be having a pleasant conversation, but I called out to them. The three of them quickly approached.

"The food is ready. So, how was it? Did you get to know each other well?"

"Yes," Saber answered firmly with a weak smile; Rias, on the other hand, had a beaming smile.

"Saber is amazing, you know? She told some incredible stories!" Rias' eyes sparkled. On the other hand, Bulma shrugged, but she seemed to have liked Saber.

I let out a long sigh, and we sat outside to eat. There was no table, so we sat on beach chairs and ate with plates in our hands. I needed a table to put outside.

It is very nice to have lunch and dinner outside.

After eating, we continued socializing for the rest of the day until evening. And when evening came, I turned on the video game I had bought yesterday and played along with everyone.

They were all very bad at it... but I was too.

It was quite fun.
