

PAGE 231 CROSS EXAMINATION

Fel and al walk in and pawsy gets them up to date. Mugger is about to explain her self defense.

FRAME 1

Foreground of the audience. Fel is walking throught the seats grabbing Al by the hand, she wants to sit right next to pawsy. We see the judge table with mugger and alpha on the back.

FEL:

Excuse me... sorry... thank you...
what did we miss?

PAWSY:

Mugger wants to call self defense.

MUGGER:

She tried to take my briefcase, and after warning her, she lunged towards me, I used the saw to make my point clear, but instead of leaving me alone, she went after me, claws first!

FRAME 1.1

Closeup to the evidence on the table. The spent flashbang, the used sticky bomb, and parts of the saw.

It's right there in the evidence from the scene. I used a flashbang, and a sticky bomb. None of these were lethal. I was trying to stun or incapacitate alpha, not murdering her.

View from behind the judges. Alpha on the left, mugger on the right.

ALPHA:

Objection! What about the saw you used to almost cut my arm off? you said that if it was in my neck my head would be rolling on the floor!!

MUGGER:

Non-lethal. I was just bluffing. That gizmo wouldn't fit around your neck. To prove this, I want to call the arms specialist of the den as a witness.

FRAME 3

A slideshow on the projector, there's a graph of how the saw works. someone is pointing at it with a telescopic stick thingy.

ALEX:

The portable circular saw. Powered by one AAA battery, has enough power to spin for around 10 seconds before expending all its power. Designed after the lab incident, its purpose is to render arms or legs to cause bleeding and surprise. With less than 2cm of exposed blade, it's very unlikely that this weapon could cut a limb off.

Closeup to Alex on an Ace attorney fashion, small bubble of hooty right next to her bubble so we know it's her asking. (try real hard to make this pixel art!)

HOOTY:

Would you call this device "mission-grade"?

ALEX:

No. Mugger designed this far too noisy and flashy for that purpose. This is just a... toy.

FRAME 4

People start chatting really loud. Show silhouettes of the ladies chit chatting.

FRAME 4.1

Judges on the left, alpha to the right, standing up. Bagheera is hitting the mallet to call everyone's attention. Not sure if this should be a top-view angle or not.

BAGHEERA:

Silence!

HONEY:

And... about the last charge you made to Mugger: "usage of community property against the community's interests"... would you care to explain your case a little more, Alpha?

ALPHA:

...With pleasure.
