Yeah!
Don't be rude Chris!

No fair!
You said you were going to show us!

Continuing where we left off, we show our trio walking out of the store. Chris, with bags in hand, is ahead of the girls who are pouting over the fact they didn't get to see him try on his new clothes.

and going

Impossible

Listen
I don't want to hear it! Besides, I'm not the one who walked away. So you lost your chance.

Our group continues their walk around the mall as Crhis remarks on their fuss. Maya hurries to catch up, as the two with longer legs are walking at their normal pace. Engrossed in the conversation, they don't stop to think about their shorter friend.

Well... we had a run in with Professor Lockhart.

Wait.
Really?! In that store?

Yep!
She was shopping for a new outfit.

Chris and Josephine realize their mistake and slow their pace. The group continues walking down the section of the upper floor which they haven't explored. Maya spies an interesting store that grabs her attention while Josephine explains what they had come across.

Chris is busy processing his thoughts regarding what Josephine says, but accidentally uses his outside voice. Meanwhile, Josephine notices that Maya has stopped and is staring fairly intently into the store they were just about to pass.

Yeah
Maya and I saw her looking at stuff right Maya?

Hmm, maybe she just wants to stop looking like an old lady?

M-maya?
Hello!?

Maya!

Gah!
Yes Josephine?
What's up?

There
we go. Now, what has got you so out of it?

Josephine gives a muffled yell at Maya, just loud enough to snap her dear friend out of her thought bubble. Josephine questions Maya wondering what she was thinking about that had her so distracted all of a sudden.

Oh! Sorry, I was just thinking...

Thinking about buying a few... necessary things?
Hehe.

Heh.
Yeah. Care to join me in some trying and buying?

Of course!
Also, I just got an idea that I'll tell you once we're inside.

Both young ladies turn to peer through the window into the store. The camera swings around to their backs for a lovely view from behind. Maya invites Josephine to do more than just window shop.

With a hand on Maya's back, and nudging her into the store, Josephine informs Chris that they'll catch up with him a little later. Chris could see their interest in the store, but the sudden change in plans takes him by surprise.

Huh!?
Oh OK. Oh wait!!
I need the car keys Josephine!

Off we go then! Chris we're going in here to browse. We'll meet up with you at Green Boats in a few minutes.

GEMINI

A shot of a slightly confused Chris standing outside the store after forgetting to get the keys. A few people walk by giving him odd glances for standing outside a women's underwear store.

Drat!
I could've at least stored these bags in the car. Now I'm stuck with them.

This place is huge! But how did they fit two floors in here?

As nice as the store looked from the outside, Josephine and Maya are not prepared for what they find on the inside. They are greeted by a very polite, and fairly stacked, cashier who waves them inside. Descending the stunning staircase, they find a store far bigger and more luxurious than they thought possible.

Who cares!? Just look at this place Maya. This is going to be so much fun!

So?
You thinking about getting something for him?

Not sure?
This seems to be moving way too fast wouldn't you agree?

Yeah,
but you do
love him right?
Or was that all just sexual frustration being released?

Each of them moves to one of the nearby tables to start viewing the wares up close. There is a veritable plethora of sexy lingerie on display, but Josephine is a little more interested in Maya's sudden desire to shop at this particular store.

Well I do recall you saying that you were finally happy that you and he finally did something to acknowledge a romance. Oh this is pretty what do you think?

Well you're half right. Since middle school, he was the only person who would talk to me and actually hang out with the new girl. Very pretty, you should get it Josephine.

The two friends continue their discussion as Josephine holds up a very naughty lingerie piece and asks Maya what she thinks of it. It's a slinky white number with lots of lace and see-through bits.

A woman with short black hair, wearing a white short-sleeved top and a purple skirt, stands in a lingerie store. She is holding a large, light blue lace bra. The store has pink shelves with various lingerie items, including bras and boxes. In the background, there are mannequins wearing different styles of bras. A staircase with a black railing is visible on the left.

They have a lot of pretty stuff here. Like this bra is... wow!

It's perfect for you. Especially since Chris' favorite color is blue. However, it does seem a bit...

Now it's Maya's turn as she holds up a lovely blue lingerie set unaware it is meant for a woman that is at least twice her bust size and far more voluptuous. She had picked it just for the color.

Sadly Maya comes to the realization, as she looks down to the huge bra she's holding, that she is a bit too plain for this particular lingerie. It is definitely a very nice piece though, and Josephine tells her to try it on anyway. Maybe they have it in a smaller size?

Carl's REVEAL

...big for me.

Sorry sweetie, but still take it and try it on!

Grab your favorite choices and let's go try them all on.

O-OK.

After some discussion, Maya shakes off her disappointment. At Josephine's suggestion, they decide to just grab everything they might be interested in and just go try them on for fun. Even if it's too big or doesn't fit. It should be kind of funny.

The two young ladies start to wander the store together, and we begin to see that they are not alone. They do not have the store all to themselves, which would a crazy idea to begin with. They continue to chat and joke as they shop.

Just get a push-up bra would you?

Like one of these? Will it make them big enough?

The two friends go on a little adventure around the store, visiting each display one at a time. They also get to overhear an interesting conversation or two while they roam. They don't listen in on purpose. It just can't be avoided.

I mean I want them to be like out to here.

Oh geez! What am I going to do with you?

The girls can't help but giggle quietly to one another at some of the things they hear. Even as they continue to pick up different items and move around the store. They each hold up items for the other to approve or not.

They also begin to notice a slight trend in the clientele of this store. Most, but not all, are fairly young and stacked. There is not a flat chest in sight! Even that crazy girl talking about being bigger was already reasonably gifted.

Eventually the pair make it to the back of the store with a pile of different items for each to try on. They put them down on the table while they look over the last few displays of special items.

I can't wait to try these on!

That's the spirit!
And hey if possible take a picture that way I can see how cute you look!

Satisfied with their choices, the girls finally head to the dressing rooms. Surprisingly they find two empty stalls that are next to each other. With some last parting comments, each of them heads into her respective room.

continue in the next part.
