

Haley slid out of his warm embrace in one fast motion. "Hey! You don't want to relax for a while?"

"There's no time for that, Brian!" She explained in an almost panicked tone, pouring the contents of their love-making session into a basin garnished with dried plant matter. "I'm still not aware of all of the conditions that surround this potion's permanent effect. It may very well depend on time of creation! I have to try making more right now!"

"...Are you sure it's not because you're desperate for one more dose?..." he muttered under his breath, frustrated, and feeling his member beginning to soften. "What was that?" She called out from over her shoulder, still busy mixing and measuring. "Oh, nothing!" Brian barked back as he found refuge on a wooden stool by the fire. The gentle heat that danced against his back felt nice.

Brian silently observed her figure as her arm fought to grind the ingredients of her elixir into a fine powder. Ripples of delicate feminine flesh jiggled throughout her body with each eager twist and poke. His gaze followed her enticing motions and eventually settled on her enormous, round ass - entirely exposed. There was no mistake that Haley's ass had grown larger... and in all the right places. "Perhaps this isn't as horrible as I thought..." Brian sighed contentedly, looking forward to the benefits of his patience.

"Hey... this thing is still orange! What gives?" Haley stood upright with one hand on her hip. "Don't tell me I made another mistake!"

Brian felt a jolt travel down his spine at that very moment. A portion of him was slipping away...

"Oh, hey - there we go!" Haley cheerfully exclaimed as she swirled the now-pink concoction in her hand. "Guess it just takes a moment to kick in!"

"Heh, ya... probably." Brian groaned as he stared down at his outstretched palms. He'd gotten smaller again. "Why... why like this?" He questioned internally. "This will have to be the last time before... before I tell her the truth." His bare feet slid against the cold bricks that made up the floor. It was a minor change, but he could tell his legs dangled just a tad higher off the ground.

"Hey... what's with the long face, handsome?" Haley said, approaching him with a golden smile, and pulled him to his feet. "Don't tell me the mood is lost already! The night's still young!" Brian shook himself out of it. "N-No, it's not, sorry! My mind was just... wandering places."

Haley arched an inquiring brow, confident that she had a good idea of what was on his mind.

"Hm hm hmmm..." Haley approached him with sealed lips and a devious smile. Her expression said it all. "I think I know EXACTLY what Mr.Bry-Bry is thinking about!"

"...Mr.Bry-Bry?"

Her eyelids hung heavy as she peered at him down her nose. "Hmmm, yes... exactly. INDEED! It is as I have surmised!" She playfully spoke as she furrowed a fake mustache and leaned back slightly in mock contemplation. "I, the lovely and beautiful Haley, have grown closer to you in height!" Her hand snapped to the top of her head and projected outwards until it tapped Brian on the forehead, causing him to blink. "...And taller than I realized, I might add!" She chirped, and her smile grew wider as her eyes excitedly darted between his face and her hand. "Ahhh yes... it won't be long before Mr.Bry-Bry will be staring at the great, beautiful, all-powerful, AND KIND, Haley eye-to-eye!" She swung in to kiss him quickly on the lips before backing off.

"W-Who's Mr.Bry-Bry?" He asked, confused.

"...Really?" Haley's expression collapsed in an instant. "That's supposed to be you! Come on, Brian. Play along!" His eyes blinked rapidly before it all came together. "Oh! Oh... Oooohh."

She cleared her throat as she postured to slip back into character. "WITH THIS POTION... WAH-LAH!! TONIGHT, I, HALEY, WILL HAVE--" She held the elixir up, as if on a pedestal for all to admire. Her voice fell back to a whisper as she let her free hand press into his shoulder. She was leaning into his ear. "...My boobies grow..." She exhaled against his skin. "... My plump ass will swell..." Her entire body pressed into his. "...and I'll be looking down to meet your eyes."

"How does that sound?" She said, swirling the contents of the potion at him.

"Uhh, I don't know, Haley. Why so soon? Can't we just take it easy for the rest of the night?" Brian pled.

Haley couldn't believe what she was hearing. She was standing naked right in front of him! "...Brian, are you alright? What's gotten into you?"

"N-Nothing! I just... I-- hey!" Her fingers grazed his flaccid shaft and balls.

Haley pouted. "You're soft." Her face turned up towards his. "...Do I not turn you on?"

"No, that's not it..." He explained, turning away from her. He wanted to escape this moment. She began to gently squeeze his cock between her fingers. Squeezing... and letting go. Squeezing... and letting go. "Look at me, Brian." Her tone came off more as an order than a request.

"Do you enjoy what's happening to me? To my body?" Her eyes earnestly searched within his. Butterflies danced in his stomach as he felt himself react to her words. Her touch. "...Does the idea of me getting taller and taller... and more beautiful... every time I swallow more and more of that pink liquid down my throat... drive you crazy?" He didn't need to respond, as his cock grew rock hard in her grasp. She was stroking him back and forth now, gently. Back and forth... back and forth.

She abruptly stopped her stroking. "Does it turn you on, Brian? ...Do I turn you on?" His penis was flexing in her palm, desperate for more attention. "...answer me, Brian." Her fingers tapped against the head of his swollen cock. "How big do you want me? How big?"

In one erupting moment, he fetched her hand in his own and wrapped it around his cock as he leaned in with purpose and passionately kissed her for all of his worth. Between each sensual, tongue-twisting mouthful of lust, he gave in to her. "I-I d-don't care, Haley-- just drink the damn potion already!!"

She pushed him away by the neck and caught her breath. "Now THAT'S what I wanted to hear. Good boy." With a loud POP, the cork was removed and Haley took one large swig of her pink concoction.

Haley savored the familiar tingling that spread across her body. This time, though, the sensation was stronger and seemed to linger as its warmth traveled to her extremities. This was undoubtedly owing to the massive amount of pink potion she had consumed all at once.

She could feel her vision gradually rising higher... and higher.

"Oh my God, Haley... I just..." Brian was dumbfounded, his gaze fixed on the top of her head, which was creeping upwards. "How can you-- how can ANYONE be this beautiful?"

She absentmindedly played with his lips and chin. "Stop it, Brian! You're making me blush!" "But it's true! I love you!" He responded in earnest. "You're the most beautiful woman I've seen. And to witness you rise even further beyond perfection just makes me weak at the--..."

Her hand gently covered his mouth as she gazed longingly into his eyes. Haley seemed to be holding back tears of joy. "All my life-- my entire life, I've wanted someone to tell me that they loved me." Her smile was in full bloom as it spread across her rosey cheeks. A tear quickly rolled down one as she continued. "... I love you too, Brian."

There was a brief pause. "...Brian?" "D-Do you think you could, uhmm... maybe... hold me?" "Hold you?" "Ya... like, while I gro---!!!"

Brian swept her off her feet in a powerful embrace, surprising her in the process. "You mean like this?"

"Y-Ya." Her heart was still racing from her love confession, but something else had her more distracted. "Uh oh. B-Brian, I think it's s-starting! The potion's taking effect!"

In tandem with his tight embrace, Brian's hard shaft pressed firmly against her soft stomach. But even still, with each second that passed, they could both feel the ever-shifting height difference that leaned in Haley's favor. At first, his proud cock rested just below her belly button, but in no time at all, it began to slip lower and lower.

"Mmmmm, Briannn." Haley called to him. "Your big, hard cock is begging for me, isn't it?" Her hips slowly swayed left and right, causing the sensation against her skin to feel twice as good. Slowly but surely, his cock began to creep lower and lower down her stomach until it neared her waiting pussy.

"Mmmmm..." She said, feeling his cock drift less than an inch away. "Oh Brian... I'm going to make you feel SO good, baby. SO SO good... Wouldn't that be nice?" His elbow rose as the peak of her ass grew taller to make room for her longer, more voluptuous legs, and her breasts swelled larger against his chest. There was no doubt about it. Haley was growing more imposing by the second. And this time, permanently.

Haley smiled confidently. "Do you think you'll be able to handle all of THIS when I'm done?... When I'm done becoming SO... MUCH... MORE."

Brian groaned in lust as his hands explored the slippery contours of her expanding body. "Unnnhh!!" Words escaped him in a brief moment of desperation as he realized his cock was already out of reach of her awaiting womanhood. She had grown too tall! Brian desperately tried to thrust his pelvis upwards, but-- "Ah ah ah..." She shook her finger and straightened her legs. "Not until I'm done growing, big boy."

"J-Just how much more do you think you're going to grow, Haley?" Brian asked with a hint of trepidation, and broke his embrace with her. His eyes were already looking straight into her eyebrows, and a part of him feared for that moment when she would forever be looking down to meet his gaze.

"Oh. Well, let's see..." She massaged her stomach and gauged how much of that familiar sensation remained in her body. Unconvinced, she then raised the glass bottle that still remained in her grasp. "Almost all of the new batch is gone... and I made a lot. So..." During her explanation, Brian could clearly see that the slow yet persistent growth that had been affecting her since the pink liquid had first passed her lips had not slowed one bit. "I'd say I'm about thirty percent done."

"O-Only thirty percent?!" He gasped, nearly staggering backward. Already, it seemed more difficult to discern who was in fact the taller one. Haley's breasts continued to grow larger and more succulent by the moment, closing the gap that stood between them. Before he knew it, he could actually feel her nipple, then her breast, press into him as it slid higher and higher...

Brian stared in awe as her legs grew longer relative to her torso, her arms fleshed out more evenly, her hair grew more vibrant and lush, and her face seemed to adjust itself more beautifully. "H-H-Haley?!" "What's wrong, Brian?" She asked with genuine concern as he took a step back. "I-- Uhh-- Ahck-- Ugh--!" At this point, she was clearly taller than him, with no sign of stopping. The potion was more powerful than he imagined. With a jostle and jiggle of her huge tits, Haley's eyes dashed down to his erect manhood, still standing at full mast. In fact, it looked painfully hard. "Well, your little friend down there is still happy to see me, so this can't quite be an emergency."

"H-Haley!!" He screamed once more. "Quit calling my name, honey, unless you have something to say. Speak up!" "Y-Y-Y-You've changed!!!" "Obviously! Look at me!" She gestured at her body, now clearly a head taller than him. "No, I mean, more than just your height and curves!"
