

“So... you want to join my wolf pack?” The alpha wolf asks. I heard that his Alpha female had passed, so now I’m hoping that the spot isn’t Female specific and he’ll just accept an extra hand from another guy. He was a large wolf, much larger than anyone I’d seen before and with a reputation that ran around the globe. With his ashen gray fur and dark brown eyes, mistakable for black.

“Yeah! Just because I’m a guy doesn’t mean I can’t be a leader!” I gloated. He scoffed and got closer. I let him in, watching as he circled me carelessly. He then started sniffing my chest and back, and sometimes my neck. He then pulled back and glared curiously at me.

“Odd. You smell and look like prey. What’s to stop me from swallowing you whole right now?” The Alpha questioned while licking his muzzle and staring at me. I’ve heard how often wolves come to this pack with the expectation to get in, but apparently if you don’t make it past the alpha’s ‘initiation’. I at least wanted to see what the initiation was before he said no.

“I assure you, I can be the predator and leader that you need.” I smirked. The alpha seemed more or less unimpressed, sitting back in his position in his den and glaring at me.

“You talk like a half pint, how about we move to the initiation part. That way you can tell me exactly how much you want to be a part of this pack.” The Alpha spoke with a seductive smirk. He then motioned for me to turn around... Oh... one of those initiations. How did people rarely get past this? It seems pretty easy. I heard the Alpha chuckle behind me as I turned around.

“I’m not going to fuck you, silly.” He joked. It made me feel slightly foolish to believe that every initiation was like that. I then felt a warm and sticky clamp wrap around the tip of my tail. I was stunned at first. Did he put my tail in his mouth? I turned to my side and saw his two front paws over my shoulder, meaning that his head was above mine. I turned my head around to see that my tail was being consumed by the Alpha’s.... Wait what?! I started to panic before one of the alpha’s paws pushed my head down, as if claiming domination over my body.

“You see, my pack initiation is different from other initiations.” The Alpha spoke as the warmth of his cock caught up to the end of my tail, making my full tail go inside of his cock. As I looked, I saw that the Alpha had freakishly large balls. Each ball was the size that could probably fit a full grown wolf, if not more. They were just barely making it above the ground, dangling loosely as he slowly leaned closer to me, encasing my butt inside of him ever so slightly, making it harder for my legs to stand. His paw pushed down on my head harder as he became more stiff and desperately tried to pull himself onto me. I can't say in pure honesty if I was into it or not, but I wasn't going to stop him from trying. I desperately needed a pack. Being a lone wolf was a harrowing journey, having a pack was the last missing piece for my survival.

"You see, I swallow the wolves who want to be a part of this pack... Though instead of my belly that they go into, they get bagged into my balls, where two things can happen...". The alpha continued as his cock encased my upper thighs and my entire ass. My lower waist was steadily lifted upward as he continued to swallow me deeper and deeper into his balls as slowly as possible. I could feel a warm liquid gushing against my backside and desperately trying to do some work on my lower half.

"My balls work in a way that, whatever goes in, is randomly sorted into one of my two, luscious, balls. After you are completely down there inside my pools of seed, either, my beta sucks my enormous cock, you can either come out in place of my sperm safe and sound, or you can slowly churn and get assimilated into the wolf pudge that once made up your body! Don't worry, my Beta is usually very good at finding my sweet spot and making me cum faster, so even if you aren't very lucky, you'll be turned into something great at a monumental pace." The Alpha cheered. I could see that his cock was growing in size the more it engulfed me in its vast collection of boiling cum. His cock then slid up to hide my back legs and now had only my upper body under the Alpha's warm and furry chest. I could feel myself getting pulled into a long, full, form of his cock. Stiffening to its core and hesitantly let out a small droplet of cum that was almost immediately swept away by the rest of the alpha's intoxicating semen. It began to pool around my body, a gushing stream of semen that didn't get caught on my behind.

"You're being a very good boy, maybe you might not be such a burden on my valuable seed as I thought. You're succumbing to my lusting shaft easier than I anticipated. Or maybe it's just because my meat is too powerful to be escaped by the likes of you..." The alpha teased as he made his way to my elbows. I guess that additional weight he was putting on himself caught up to him. He abruptly landed onto the ground in a comfortable sitting position with his balls squirming to engulf me quicker than he was letting. His paw still rested on my forehead. I tried to look up, but I only saw the front half of the Alpha's muzzle. His satisfaction was noted as I saw his flat tongue lay loosely at the end of his muzzle, creating slow falling streams of saliva that almost went onto my nose. I was going to lap his saliva into my mouth before a smaller wolf showed up, he was only a little surprised when he saw my upper body sticking out of his alpha's cock. Seeing such a small wolf reminded me of just how massive the alpha wolf was, clearly taking some of the form of previous wolves who were less fortunate.

"Ahh, my every so valuable beta! Just in time to see this wolf goodbye!" The Alpha said with a quick change of voice. Why is it certain now that it is goodbye? Didn't he say that it was an equal opportunity?

"You caught a new victim, alpha?" The Beta asked slyly while looking down at me in a more than condescending glance.

"Of course! This one is very obedient, but we both remember the last one that didn't struggle!" The alpha cheered. Was I supposed to struggle?! I started jerking my body side to side in an attempt to slip out of it but it only got a lustful moan from the alpha as a result. I continued until the mighty cock pulled my elbows into it completely, leaving my head stuck looking up at the alpha and beta, and leaving my paws to be pinned to the side of my cheeks.

"It's a little late now to be in denial! Don't worry, I'll leave a drop of you in every wolf that thinks this initiation is some kind of joke." The Alpha joked as one of his paws slowly stroked my head. I wasn't going to appreciate it however, because of my dire situation. I felt the Beta give me a slow lick for goodbye.

"Aww. I almost feel bad, but I'll be sure to make you into some perfect babies that might have better luck escaping my mighty, meaty, and delicious cock." The Alpha continued, proudly gawking at the masterpiece that had been created.

"A j-joke?! I don't think this is a-". I slipped past the head of the cock and felt the squeezing muscles that seized my body until I was completely slurped by the cock. I could hardly hear the continued moans and laughs of the alpha and his beta as I slumped into his fattened balls, only now making me aware of just how many wolves were sacked in this way. I was now one of them, quickly compacted for the alpha for him to dismiss as a threat, unable to even open my maw or flex my paws. Assuming I was even able to, the hot and sludgy cum acted as a protection against any clawing that I thought I'd be capable of. I could only wriggle in place, unable to fight against the overbearing alpha as his cock worked over my body.

The alpha wolf strokes his massive member and feels his knot pulsing along the maw of his beta, shoved under his torso. The alpha saw the wagging tail of his beta as he suckled along the cock. The feeling of his balls quickly raising the prey inside made it and boiled the cum in preparation for his climax. The alpha growled playfully, feeling the prey inside and feeling that the randomized decision had been made. As he held his beta in place, he unloaded the perfectly churned remains of the wolf to be quickly sent into the beta wolf, the unlucky wolf inside now converted to fresh wolf spunk for the beta's approval, though the amount greatly overpowered the small wolf, leading to Alpha keeping a more firm grip on his beta as the wolf spunk spilled from his cock and scattered the sperm across the ground, spilling out only a minimum from his expansive balls. The beta eventually slipped off his alpha with his maw starch white and fully engulfed in his alpha's cum. The struggling beta took a few gulps of the semen before standing up and pressing his head into the gushing balls of his alpha in curiosity.

"Hmm... I guess the new wolf wasn't as lucky, alpha!" The beta launched, now licking at his body to slurp up the remains of the wolf didn't get caught in his maw. The alpha leaned down and joined his beta in his grooming with a sly smirk across his face.

"They rarely do, but I doubt you actually wanted me to keep a new one."
